Lynne Stuart - PhD Thesis Presentation Seminar
The Stories of Aboriginal Nursing Academics who have been Employed within SONMs in Queensland Universities between 2003 – 2013.

Acknowledgement - Indigenous Nursing Academic in (SONMaP) & Community Elder – “Aunty Leone Smith”
Presenter – Lynne Stuart (Mandandanji).

Lynne Stuart - PhD Candidate
University of the Sunshine Coast, Qld, Australia.

Supervisors
Prof Jeanine Young (USC)
Prof Marianne Wallis (USC)
Emeritus Prof Anne McMurray (Griffith)*

Acknowledgements
Aunty Leone Smith – Community Elder
Prof Cath Rogers Clark (USQ)*
Prof Don Gorman (USQ)*
My research participants for their ‘Stories’
All of my Family, Friends, Colleagues & Lolly
I am a descendant of the Mandandanji Aboriginal people of Australia. I am belonging to Gubbi Gubbi/ Kabi Kabi country...where I was born.

I am an Aboriginal Nursing Academic and Senior Lecturer in the School of Nursing and Midwifery and Paramedics at the University of the Sunshine Coast, QLD, Australia.

My Nursing History:

Enrolled Nurse – 1985 (Picture - Nursing in the NT)
Bachelor of Nursing Degree - 2001
Masters of Nursing - 2005
Graduate Certificate of Tertiary Teaching – 2007
Masters of Nursing (Hons Research) - 2009

PhD Candidate – start 2010 – To complete PhD studies in 2016.
The Core Story – The ‘Black Swans’ (Maroochy Dreaming)